Ideas For Eating Better For Less January 2009

Help Your Family Be Active This Winter

- Have your family choose fun activities to do together as often as possible.
- Plan ahead. Active families make time to be physically active.
- Adults can be good role models. Be active 30 minutes most days.
- Make sure your children are active 60 minutes each day even when you are not able to be active with them.
- Encourage your children to be active by limiting the amount of time your children watch television or play video games.
